

1 (Court convened at 2:30 p.m.)

2 THE DEPUTY CLERK: United States of America
3 versus Thomas E. Arney, in criminal case 2:12cr105.

4 Ms. Martin, is the United States ready to 5 proceed?

6 MS. MARTIN: We are ready.

7 Good afternoon, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Good afternoon, Ms. Martin.

9 THE DEPUTY CLERK: Mr. Taliaferro and Mr. Radin, 10 is the defendant ready to proceed?

11 MR. TALIAFERRO: Yes. Good afternoon.

12 THE COURT: Good afternoon.

13 Mr. Arney, have you had adequate opportunity to 14 consult with your counsel to be prepared for the hearing 15 this afternoon?

16 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

17 THE COURT: Are you satisfied with the advice 18 and counsel you are receiving?

19 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

20 THE COURT: All right. Fine. You may have a 21 seat.

22 The Court has had an opportunity to review the 23 position papers filed by the United States and filed by 24 the defendant in the case, and the Court notes no 25 objections to the presentence report filed by the United

1 States. Is that still the case?

2 MS. MARTIN: That is the case, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Did the United States make a motion 4 for the defendant to receive an additional one point for 5 acceptance of responsibility?

6 MS. MARTIN: The government did make that 7 motion, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: All right. That motion will be 9 granted.

10 The Court likewise notes no objections to the 11 presentence report from the defendant; is that correct?

12 MR. TALIAFERRO: That's still the case, yes,
13 sir.

14 THE COURT: All right. There's one thing the 15 Court wants to clear up regarding the position paper.
16 You made a motion to file under seal, just a straight 17 motion without the appropriate support, to file your 18 position paper, I believe, under seal.

19 The Court is questioning the necessity to file 20 that paper under seal. I have read it. It seems to 21 track what is already known and what will probably come 22 out in this hearing, so the Court is questioning the 23 necessity. I think the government filed the same thing.

24 MS. MARTIN: Well, Your Honor, traditionally, as 25 the Court knows, the government files --

1 THE COURT: 5-Ks?

2 MS. MARTIN: Motions pursuant to 5K under seal,
3 which we have done. And I believe Mr. Taliaferro's 4 position on sentencing, while it tracks the government's 5 motion which was made under seal, I believe it also 6 contains a reference to the sentence reduction that the 7 government has suggested and that was filed under seal by 8 the government. So it does make reference to things 9 the --

10 THE COURT: Yes, but my question is does the 11 government intend to argue the same thing here this 12 afternoon? Do you intend to mention it at all?

13 MS. MARTIN: I wasn't going to mention the 14 specific number, Your Honor. I think the government has 15 set forth its position adequately in its written filings 16 and I think would make our argument simply track that, 17 without making reference to necessarily specific numbers.

18 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you very much.

19 Thank you, Mr. Taliaferro. The Court is going 20 to simply grant the motion to file under seal. Both 21 parties have done that, and I will address the matter
22 raised by Mr. Maglone in a separate order. But I think 23 that will probably be moot after this hearing anyway, in 24 any event.

25 Okay. The Court finds that there are no

1 objections to the presentence report at this juncture.

2 Mr. Arney, will you please stand.

3 Mr. Arney, at this juncture the Court finds you
4 have a criminal history category of I, an offense level
5 of 26, with an advisory sentencing guideline range of 63
6 to 78 months.

7 You may call witnesses this afternoon to assist 8 the Court in determining what sentence is appropriate, 9 what sentence is sufficient but not greater than 10 necessary.

11 You may testify yourself, if you to wish do so.
12 You also have the option of remaining silent and having 13 Mr. Taliaferro to handle all matters for you. Do you 14 understand this?

15 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

16 THE COURT: Mr. Taliaferro, the Court has about 17 18 letters it will note in a few minutes, but will you be 18 calling any live witnesses?

19 MR. TALIAFERRO: No, sir, I will not.

20 THE COURT: Will Mr. Arney be making any 21 statement at any point?

22 MR. TALIAFERRO: I don't believe he will, no, 23 sir.

24 THE COURT: If you make an unsworn statement, 25 you will not be subject to cross-examination. If you

1 make a sworn statement, you will be.

2 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

3 THE COURT: All right. If he changes his mind,
4 let me know. Thank you very much.

5 Also filed in the record is a document entitled 6 "Motion for Downward Departure" or "Downward Adjustment
7 for Acceptance of Responsibility." Pursuant to Section 8 5K1 the government has filed a motion in this case. The 9 Court has had an opportunity to examine the motion
10 pursuant to the sentencing guidelines. Having tried this 11 case for ten weeks, the Court well understands the basis 12 for the motion. The Court believes that the United 13 States has adequately documented the justification for 14 the 5K1 motion. The motion will be granted.

15 That being the case, the Court finds it
16 appropriate to grant the motion and the Court will grant 17 the motion with a downward departure to an offense level 18 18 with an advisory sentencing guideline range of 27 to 19 33 months.

20 That means, Mr. Taliaferro, that certainly the 21 Court will consider sentencing the defendant someplace in 22 that range.

23 MR. TALIAFERRO: Yes, sir.

24 THE COURT: Now, that having been said, the 25 Court wants to note for the record the following letters

1 have been received, and the Court has read these 2 letters: a Mr. Richard James, a retired police officer;
3 Leonard M. Newcomb, III; a letter from Izaak D. Glasser;
4 Matthew G. Miller; Ronald A. Zoby; Thomas E. Baldwin;
5 William L. Spruill, a retired police officer; Krista R.
6 Arney; Ashlee Arney; Thomas Ryan Arney; Douglas W. Fuller
7 of Precon Marine; Paul Decker; Attorney Peter G. Decker, 8 III; Attorney H. Joel Weintraub; W. Preston Fussell from 9 Precon. I think he's the president; a letter from Carol 10 Powell at Children's Hospital of the King's Daughters; 11 and a letter from Natasha Terry.

12           Those were the letters the Court had, unless you
13 have some more, Mr. Taliaferro?

14           MR. TALIAFERRO: No, sir. That's all the 15 letters.

16           THE COURT: All right. The Court has read all 17 of those letters that speak positively of the defendant 18 as a community leader. Not a community leader, but 19 someone in the community who is compassionate and 20 supportive of other people, as one who has been a 21 successful businessman and a friend. So the Court has 22 read those letters and articles.

23           At this juncture, the Court is prepared, if 24 there are no witnesses for the defendant -- are there any 25 victim witnesses, Ms. Martin, that wish to be heard?

1 MS. MARTIN: The government has no evidence,
2 Your Honor, only argument.

3 THE COURT: That being the case, the Court is 4 prepared to hear argument.

5 MS. MARTIN: As the Court has already indicated, 6 having presided over a ten-week jury trial, the Court is 7 certainly well acquainted with the facts of this case and 8 the role that each of the culpable parties played.
9 Mr. Arney, like many others, engaged in a mutually 10 beneficial lending relationship with insiders of the Bank
11 of the Commonwealth.

12 Now, the fact that others engaged in this same 13 scheme or that bank insiders made it all possible does 14 not excuse Mr. Arney's conduct. Mr. Arney got a lot of 15 money from the Bank of the Commonwealth, over $7.5
16 million, over the course of this conspiracy alone.

17 And despite his limited education, Mr. Arney is 18 a very smart man. He's a very savvy man and he knew 19 exactly what he was doing. He was exploiting for his own 20 personal gain the culture of fraud and deceit that was 21 rampant at that community bank.

22 Now, that said, Mr. Arney possesses a number of 23 characteristics that weigh in his favor. Both the 24 personal history laid out in the presentence report as 25 well as the character references that the Court has just

1 mentioned all describe a person who has overcome a number 2 of obstacles in his life, including an abusive family, 3 poverty and a lack of education, to become, according to 4 the letters and the presentence report, a devoted family
5 man and friend as well as an owner and operator of a 6 number of successful businesses.

7           I think of particular note was the very sincere 8 letter written by the defendant's son, and I think what 9 was compelling about Mr. Arney's son's letter was that at 10 one point in this letter he says that the day that his 11 dad pled guilty, he was filled with admiration for him.
12 I thought that was so striking for him to say because the 13 fact of the matter is Mr. Arney has expressed great 14 remorse for involving his family in these crimes. But 15 not only that, he set a tremendous example for them by 16 pleading guilty and accepting responsibility for his 17 conduct and the mistakes that he has made.

18           Mr. Arney is readily distinguishable from the 19 other defendants in this case, both the cooperating 20 defendants and those that are convicted at trial. First 21 of all, the losses that were directly attributable to 22 Mr. Arney's lending relationship are significantly less 23 than the losses associated with other fraudulent loan 24 relationships at the bank.

25           Second, though he certainly made the most of the 1 opportunity presented by bank insiders, Mr. Arney was a 2 customer of the bank and ultimately didn't owe a 3 fiduciary duty to its shareholders.

4           Finally, though, and most importantly, Mr. Arney 5 did not minimize his conduct, he did not blame others for 6 it, and he did not lie about it. Instead, a few short 7 weeks after receiving a target letter from the United 8 States prior to his indictment, he confessed to his 9 crimes and he began to cooperate with the government.

10           To that end, as the Court knows, Mr. Arney has 11 provided critical and substantial assistance in one of 12 the most complex bank fraud prosecutions having been 13 brought in this district.

14           I would only emphasize what the Court knows, 15 having witnessed Mr. Arney's testimony at trial, it was 16 both candid and compelling. It was fully consistent with 17 the information he gave investigators throughout the 18 course of the investigation and was certainly credible.
19 So the government asks and has passed up a consent order 20 of forfeiture as well as a restitution order in this case
21 which will be paid to the Federal Deposit Insurance 22 Corporation.

23           For all these reasons, the government recommends 24 that the Court depart downward, which it has done, to a 25 27- to 33-month advisory guideline range. The government

1 believes a sentence within that range is appropriate and 2 both reflects the defendant's contrition and his 3 cooperation as well as the seriousness of this offense 4 and the clear message that people in quid pro quo
5 relationships will not be tolerated in our financial 6 institutions.

7           Thank you, Your Honor.

8           THE COURT: Thank you.

9           Mr. Taliaferro.

10           MR. TALIAFERRO: I have just a couple of 11 remarks, Your Honor. I would ask you to sentence him to 12 the low end of the guidelines, to the 27 months. I think 13 that would be appropriate in this case. I'm just going 14 to cite a few reasons why I think that it is appropriate.

15           There is no question that in this case we are 16 dealing with a truly, I guess, unique and unusual 17 individual. I mean, you read his life story, as I put in 18 my position paper. It reads almost like a work of 19 fiction when you read this.

20           He has got a fourth grade education. He does 21 not know how to read and write. I know this personally 22 because I taught him to sign his name. He didn't even 23 know how to sign his name. He had a terrible, violent 24 upbringing. Lives in foster homes and orphanages, lives 25 on the street, living in cars. Then what's important is

1 he survives near terminal cancer. He had less than a 2 50-50 chance to live earlier this year, and through sheer 3 determination, I believe, he pulled himself through that.

4           In spite all of that, he became a great father.
5 There's no question about that. It's referenced in the 6 letters. He became a great businessman. You have got 7 some letters from some very prominent businessmen who 8 talked about their relationship with him and the type of 9 businessman he was, and he did this by working. As he 10 said, he started hauling trash, selling cars and selling 11 property, and finally got into the restaurant business.
12 And despite all of that, he became a man of great 13 compassion.

14           I'm not going to read every letter, but you have 15 got a letter from Ron Zoby that talks about being sick in 16 the hospital for six months and this man would come to 17 see him and bring him food, and that takes time out of 18 your day when a person is in the hospital for six months 19 and you are going to see them and bring him food.

20           Last year, as you know, we had a great human 21 being, a lawyer, that we lost last year, and you have got 22 a letter from his two sons in there that I think are as 23 heartfelt as you are going to ever find about what 24 Mr. Arney did to make his life a little easier at the 25 end. And that takes work as well.

1           You got a letter from William Spruill, a retired 2 major on the police force in Chesapeake. He says that 3 Mr. Arney provided all the food whenever an officer was 4 killed in the line of duty. Mr. Arney was the one that 5 provided the food, and he says that -- 32 years on the 6 police department and he says he's never written a letter 7 like this, never written a letter like this.

8           And you have got a letter in there from Thomas 9 Baldwin, the Clerk of Court in Norfolk. He talks about 10 he's been the clerk for 41 years and he basically says I 11 would not even consider writing a letter -- never done it 12 before -- wouldn't even consider writing a letter for 13 anybody other than Mr. Arney.

14           And then you have got the articles that I 15 presented to the Court about those children that couldn't 16 even go out because of this disease that they had. They 17 didn't have the suits that they needed, that Mr. Arney is 18 the one that raised the money. The article goes on to 19 say at one point he put a dare up. He said, I will shave 20 my head if you customers of mine can come up with the 21 money in this case.

22           And, again, this is all before this. So this is 23 not some change of heart where a person is trying to do
24 something now to get some sympathy. This was done years
25 ago that he did this. And he estimates that he provided

1 fifty to a hundred thousand dollars to various charities
2 while he was doing this. So every letter you have deals 3 with some charitable work that he's done.

4 Just to echo what the government says for a 5 minute, he has expressed tremendous contrition for what 6 he has done. I agree that he and probably Mr. Etheridge 7 are a little different in this case because they are not 8 insiders, and the government makes that absolutely 9 clear. They were troubled borrowers in what I called 10 troubled times. He is the only codefendant indicted 11 along with this group that pled guilty and cooperated.

12 And the government in arguing its position, they 13 say, quote, he provided critical and substantial 14 assistance. I think he, in some ways, provided a 15 foundation for some of that case.

16 The government goes on to say that there were 17 certain areas that they could not have presented evidence 18 but for Arney's cooperation. In other words, it could 19 not have been done but for his cooperation. His 20 testimony was truthful. The jury believed him. They 21 believed him. His testimony was absolutely truthful.

22 He cooperated prior to being indicted. Prior to 23 being indicted, he had acknowledged his guilt, agreed to 24 cooperate and agreed to plead guilty. And on the 25 proactive side, he convinced another witness to come

1 forward that knew something about this, to plead guilty.
2 Well, actually they didn't plead guilty, but to cooperate
3 and testify at the trial, and that witness also was a 4 compelling witness.

5           So he's admitted all of his involvement in this 6 prior to his indictment. He testified, as the government 7 says, over a two-day period during trial. I was here for 8 some of that. The government says the cross-examination 9 was harsh. It may have been worse than harsh. Five 10 separate lawyers from different parts of the country in 11 some ways cross-examined him. He held up under that, and 12 the jury believed him.

13           His early cooperation helped the government 14 tremendously in preparing for this case. So this is an 15 unusual man with, I think, an extraordinary amount of 16 cooperation. The guidelines are advisory in this case, 17 and I would ask the Court to do what the Court thinks is 18 appropriate in this case because, as I say, his 19 cooperation has been way beyond what we normally see.

20           THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Taliaferro.

21           Mr. Arney, if you would join Mr. Taliaferro at 22 the podium, please.

23           Did he ever make a determination whether he 24 wishes to make any statement or not?

25           MR. TALIAFERRO: I don't think he does.

1           THE DEFENDANT: I think everything has been 2 said, Your Honor.

3           THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Arney, I thank you.

4           Mr. Arney, the Court has to impose a sentence
5 that's sufficient but not greater than necessary. That's 6 the legal standard. And to do that, the Court will go 7 through a series of considerations here on the record.

8           The Court has read the presentence report in 9 detail, and the Court has a vast amount of information
10 about your background that the Court will not take time 11 to put into this record, but the Court is certainly aware 12 of all the 3553 factors that might pertain to your case.

13           You stand before the Court having been convicted 14 on three counts of conspiracy to commit bank fraud, 15 misapplication of bank funds and unlawful participation 16 in a loan during the period of January 2008 through 17 September 2011.

18           Now, one of the things the Court also looks at 19 is really who are you, your personal background? I 20 believe you are 56 years old?

21           THE DEFENDANT: Fifty-seven.

22           THE COURT: Okay. Fifty-seven years old. And I
23 believe counsel has alluded that you really had a 24 traumatic upbringing as a child: abusive family
25 relationships, no education. You dropped out at, I

1 believe, the fourth grade. You had serious personal 2 history and issues you had to deal with, but the record 3 reflects an ability to overcome and to adjust.

4           Your counsel has indicated you became a 5 successful businessman, an individual of compassion in 6 the community. You did a lot of positive things with 7 your life, notwithstanding the traumatic experiences you 8 had as a child.

9           The record reflects that you were self-employed 10 since 2005 as the owner of Freedom Trucks & Cars known as 11 Moyock Muscle. From 1985 to 2011 you sold various 12 residential and commercial properties. I think in 2009 13 you had over $1 million earned as a result of your 14 efforts dealing with residential and commercial 15 properties. So you were successful in conducting your 16 business.

17           At some point you got involved with the Bank of 18 the Commonwealth and got engaged in all kinds of 19 illegalities. You profited from, as some have put it, 20 the rather corrupt culture that existed at the Bank of 21 the Commonwealth. You were able to get loans freely, and 22 I believe that had an impact on you beginning to do 23 things you shouldn't do.

24           The question the Court asked was with a man who 25 had the ability to build the empire that you have and to

1 overcome all the personal problems that you have had, how 2 did you manage to at this point in your life slip into 3 this corrupt activity and jeopardize everything you had 4 worked so hard to gain? That is the question, but you
5 did it. Notwithstanding, you did it.

6           You have no problems of substance abuse that the 7 Court has been able to really verify in this report.

8           Physically you seem to be in good shape, though 9 you overcame cancer through perseverance back in 1990, 10 and you have no real serious psychiatric problems that 11 would account for your activities. So the Court probably 12 concludes a lot of it has to do with plain greed that got 13 you involved in this situation.

14           But the good thing about it is at some point you 15 realized you were wrong and began to cooperate, though 16 you did it late. You began to cooperate, and that is 17 evidenced from your testimony in this case and your 18 continuing cooperation with the United States.

19           Now, the United States has filed a 5K1 motion -- 20 we seldom see those motions around here as judges, 21 Mr. Arney -- because of your cooperation in this case, 22 and the Court certainly takes that into consideration.

23           The Court also has to provide for restitution to 24 the victims in this case, and the Court has a restitution
25 order up here where you are going to be required to pay

1 back over $2 million.

2           As the Court looks at your resources, hopefully 3 you will find a way to immediately convert some of those 4 resources and pay folk that need to be paid, because a 5 lot of times victims don't get reimbursed because of the 6 lack of resources that the defendant has. So we hope 7 that that's what will happen in this case.

8           Now, in terms of imposing your sentence, one 9 thing the Court has to do is to be sure that your 10 sentence is not disproportionate to other sentences 11 imposed in a case where you have conspirators and, etc.
12 Your case is unique and different. Certainly you did not 13 proffer as much as others, and you weren't in this 14 conspiracy as long as others. You have a lower offense 15 level than other persons involved in this conspiracy, and 16 you are also the recipient of a 5K1 motion because you
17 chose to cooperate and some others did not cooperate. So 18 the Court believes we have no problems with disparities 19 because of sentencing.

20           But at the end of the day, Mr. Arney, there is a 21 penalty to be paid when you get involved with something 22 this criminal. So, hopefully, you will go in, do the 23 time you have to do, come back out and keep on with your 24 life.

25           In most cases if an individual is a model

1 prisoner, that individual serves about 85 percent of the 2 time minus probably another six months to a community
3 facility before release. So that's what usually happens, 4 and I'm sure your lawyer can inform you exactly how much
5 of the time you will be spending that the Court chooses 6 to impose in this case.

7 But having weighed all the sentencing factors in 8 this case, the Court believes it's appropriate to 9 sentence you as follows:

10 Pursuant to the Sentencing Reform Act of 1984, 11 it is the judgment of the Court that the defendant Thomas 12 E. Arney is hereby committed to the custody of the United 13 States Bureau of Prisons to be imprisoned for a term of 14 27 months. The term consists of 27 months on Count 1, 27 15 months on Count 2 and 27 months on Count 3, all to be 16 served concurrently.

17 Upon release from imprisonment, you shall be 18 placed on supervision for a term of three years. This 19 term consists of three years on Count 1, three years on 20 Count 2, a term of three years on Count 3, all to run 21 concurrently.

22 You shall also comply with the following 23 additional conditions, Mr. Arney: You shall provide the 24 probation officer access to any requested financial 25 information. You shall not incur new credit charges or

1 open additional lines of credit without the approval of 2 the probation office.

3           You shall apply all monies received from income
4 tax refunds, lottery winnings, inheritances, judgments
5 and any anticipated or unanticipated or unexpected 6 financial gains to the outstanding court ordered 7 financial obligation, or a lesser amount to be determined
8 by the Court upon the recommendation of the probation 9 officer.

10           You shall participate in the Treasury Offset 11 Program as directed by the probation officer. You shall 12 not be self-employed in the real estate industry, 13 purchasing and/or selling properties during your period
14 of supervision.

15           Now, the Court looks at the financial losses
16 sustained by the victims, your net worth, your liquid 17 assets, your lifestyle, your earning potential, the lack 18 of dependents relying on you for support. The Court will 19 note a few minutes ago when the Court was going through 20 the 3553 factors that you do have grown children that the 21 Court is familiar with from the testimony in the case.
22 The Court finds you are not capable of paying a fine, but 23 you are capable of making full restitution as required by 24 statute, so you are to pay the following penalties:

25           As to Count 1, you shall pay a special

1 assessment of $100, you shall pay a special assessment of 2 $100 on Count 2 and Count 3, for a total special 3 assessment of $300.

4           You shall make restitution to the FDIC in the 5 amount of $2,053,088.21.

6           The Court has a restitution order here. Did you
7 sign this order, Mr. Arney?

8           THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

9           THE COURT: Do you understand the restitution
10 order is a part of your sentence in this case? If you
11 fail to make the restitution, you could be back in here 12 facing a revocation of your supervised release heading 13 back to prison, if you fail to make the appropriate 14 payments.

15           Now, the Court is going to enter this 16 restitution order. You can pay the whole thing today and 17 get it behind you or if it's not paid by the time your 18 supervision begins, it shall be due in installments of 19 not less than $500 per month until paid in full and the 20 first payments will be due 60 days after your supervision 21 begins.

22           The Court also has a forfeiture order here. Did 23 you sign this forfeiture order?

24           THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

25           THE COURT: Did you talk to Mr. Taliaferro about

1 this order before you signed it?

2 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

3 THE COURT: Do you understand it?

4 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

5 THE COURT: All right. The Court is going to 6 sign the forfeiture order and that will go into the 7 record. You have agreed to a money judgment in the 8 amount of $7,541,582.18, and you have agreed to forfeit a 9 whole series of properties and items in this forfeiture
10 order. That will be going into the record today.

11 Now, Mr. Taliaferro, did Mr. Arney waive his 12 right to appeal when he pled in this case?

13 MR. TALIAFERRO: Yes, sir, he did.

14 THE COURT: Mr. Arney, I'm not advising you of 15 any right to appeal because you waived at the time you 16 entered your plea.

17 Are there other matters to be addressed,
18 Ms. Martin?

19 MS. MARTIN: No other matters for the 20 government.

21 THE COURT: Mr. Taliaferro?

22 MR. TALIAFERRO: Yes. I filed a motion for 23 Mr. Arney to self-report. I think the government would 24 agree with me. I have asked for 90 days. I think the 25 government feels 90 days is appropriate. One of the 1 reasons, as you have alluded to, is he still has to 2 assist them with this forfeiture. There are cars in 3 North Carolina. There are lots of things he has to do.

4 So I think it would be to the government's benefit, as 5 well as Mr. Arney, if he were allowed to self-report in 6 about 90 days from today, sir.

7 MS. MARTIN: I would note for the Court that the 8 government has no objection to Mr. Taliaferro's motion.
9 I will say that Mr. Arney has been working actively with 10 our forfeiture attorneys. Judge, there's a lot, as you 11 can see in the consent order of forfeiture, to 12 liquidate. Some of the things that need to be liquidated 13 down in Moyock, in particular, it would be helpful to 14 have Mr. Arney's involvement in that. So we wouldn't 15 object but understand that the Court will determine an 16 appropriate self-report date.

17 THE COURT: The Court has a problem with 90
18 days, Mr. Taliaferro. The government is just going to 19 have to speed up its action here. The Court has gone a 20 little further than it usually goes and will have him 21 self-report in 30 days.

22 On August 22nd before 2:00 p.m. you report to 23 the facility that they tell you to report to. If they 24 have not given you a place to report, you report to the 25 U.S. Marshal on this hall before 2:00 p.m., but 30 days

1 is about all the Court is going to do on that. I think 2 the government can get it done.

3 All right. Anything else?

4 MR. TALIAFERRO: No, sir.

5 THE COURT: All right. Court will be in recess
6 until further notice.

7 Let's get back on the record.

8 I'm sorry. There's one warning I failed to give 9 you, Mr. Arney. You are a convicted felon facing jail 10 time. If you violate your bond, you are going to be 11 picked up and you are going to be faced with other 12 criminal charges. Do you understand this?

13 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

14 THE COURT: All right. Now we are adjourned.

15 (This hearing concluded at 3:08 p.m.)
